Eww gross! Caught Red Handed eating year- old Spam are Dan Stover and Dustin Adwell. Hopefully they don't get sick in time for the big production.

"There's no one here but us balloons."

Jason Sausser

Caught Red Handed eating instead of helping build a float is Ian Eakins. That pizza sure does look delicious!

Caught Red Handed

"Caught Red Handed"... what a captivating theme! This year the yearbook will be chock- full of Marine City High School students doing everything from talking on cell phones in school, to dressing up as their favorite childhood super heroes... (to the bat cave Robin!) and all that is in between. Sometimes the best pictures are not those posed, the pictures that students don't want taken, where the subject may not necessarily be smiling or looking their personal best, or even acting becomingly. Although not all pictures are glamorous, they are real and that is what the 2005 yearbook is all about, the real experiences of high school. We aren't perfect, we have a lot of great and hilarious moments and this theme allows us to capture the essence of Mariner life. No more fake smiles or poses, no more monotonous pictures or dull subjects. This year you will see Homecoming Queens playing football in glamorous dresses and high heels, football players wearing wigs, as well as many other intriguing photographs.

We're pulling out all stops; pictures are not dismissed due to their inappropriate contexr, but rather proudly displayed so the whole school can witness the authenticity of Marine City, its students and staff. "Great Kids, Great Staff, Great School," is proudly exhibited in our school, what makes us great, however, is not only our achievements and god deeds, but rather our mistakes, our moments of imperfection, our ability to look back at what we have done and laugh at ourselves. Being caught red handed, therefore, should not be viewed negatively, but looked upon optimistically, as a way to reveal the truth about who each of us are at our craziest moments.

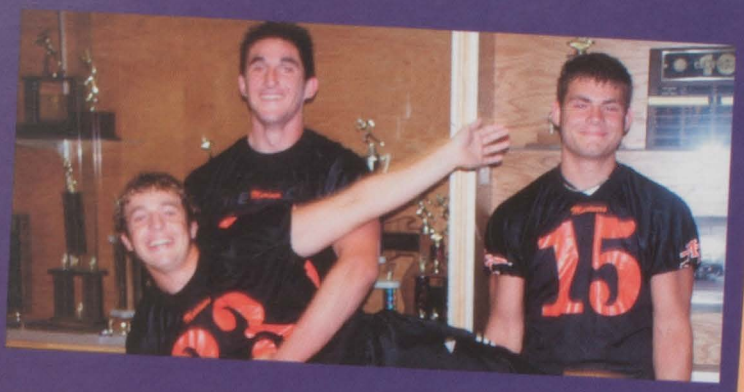

There must be something heavy to move on the baseball field as Jerry Wesley runs away with the wheel barrow.

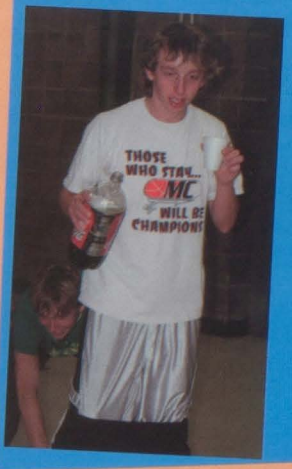

"Powderpuff was a lot of fun. I liked coaching the team but I didn't like losing. I wanted to get in the game--that's why I dressed like a girl."

Ryan Genshow

Trying to see if Mike Parslow could actually fly, Kyle Pelzer and Andrew Kent help out their friend to give him the extra boost he needs.

Josh Bieske is Caught Red Handed being "pantsed." D.J. McKellar snuck up on him. Hopefully all of the pop doesn't get on the cafeteria floor!

The Boys

Got ants in your pants? Or is it an wedgie? Only Paul Gale knows the true answer to those questions.

"I occasionally like to get in touch with my feminine side. Besides...don't you think the long hair sets off my luscious lips?"

Brent Welser

Caught Red Handed on the Friday before Halloween is Matt "Batman" Duetsche and Rocky "Robin" Maynard.

"Love is not blind. It sees all and because it sees all, it is willing to see less."

Rocky Maynard

Bringing in a slushie from Sunrise is not allowed in the gym. Josh Brown is Caught Red Handed breaking the rules!

Just in case someone tries to take over the school, Sophomores Brigette Emery, Jenna Romas and Kendra Holtshauser stand cover.

"I was trying to be tough and get everyone to listen to me. Obviously the Big Tough Kendra didn't work that day."

Kendra Holtshouser

It looks like someone is taking an early break. Amanda Sobczak is Caught Red Handed sneaking away with the pizza!

Caught Red Handed is Janine Jenken and Cyndi Heintz. Obviously Janine doesn't think the rules apply to her as she smacks Cyndi over the head with her pillow.

"I hate this game!" Alicia Lannoo gets hysterical after losing another video game. She takes this stuff pretty seriously!

Doesn't that look yummy? Deanna Rybarczyk is Caught Red Handed stuffing her mouth at lunch.

Caught Red Handed with the security guard's hat on is Christiana Schmitz. Shouldn't the security guard be watching over his things?

Once again, Tara Yax is Caught Red Handed sitting around laughing and not getting her work done. She better not get that marker on the wall!

Tara Yax

"I snuck up behind Cyndi and hit her with a pillow. I felt like having a pillow fight and Cyndi was my first target!"

Marissa Holloman

Hannah Schmitz and Marissa Holloman are Caught Red Handed sleeping the day away, while helping raise money for Prom.

What is Lacey doing now?! We're not sure what Lacey Bassett's busted for this time but she must have been doing someting wrong!

"Oops!" Sam Nickerson spills a bag full of paper as she takes it to the recycling bin.

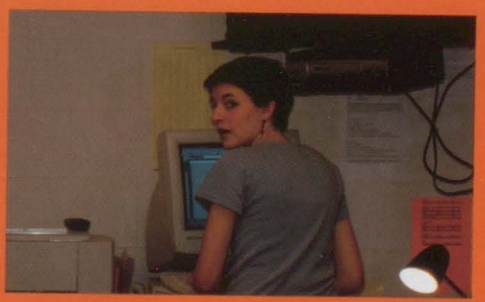

Amanda Vintevoghel

If the lights go out in the PAC...blame Amanda! She is Caught Red Handed taking a break from doing some of the audio/visual work during the Charlie Brown play.

Caught Red Handed wetting her whistle is Lindsay Ostin. She better save some for the fish!

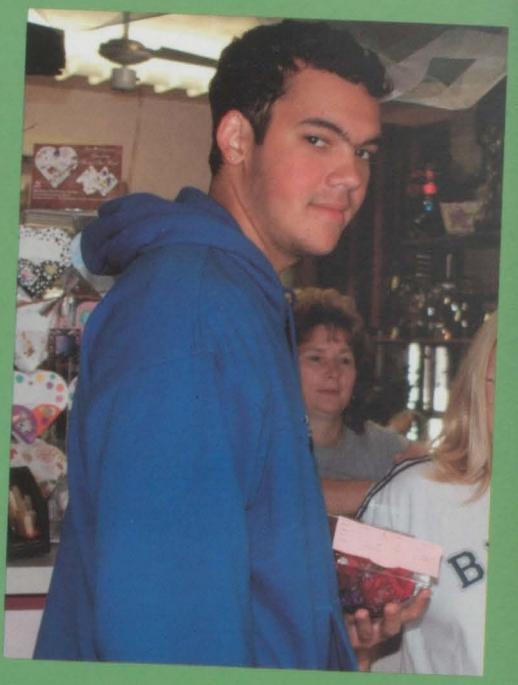

Jamie Dunsmore is caught off guard as she types up programs for Drama. She better hurry before Mr. McCulloch catches her!

"Before Homecoming I got my nails and hair done, bought a dess, shoes, and jewlery. My favorite part was eating at Mongolian Barbeque."

Holly Beversdorf

Hoseing around before homecoming is Senior Jon Christie.

Out buying flowers for his date is exchange student, Rudolfo Gonfiantinni from Brazil. His favorite part of homecoming was the dance.

Lisa Gostiaux

"My favorite part of homecoming was going out to dinner and pictures, because our group was so big."

Were you surprised to find Mrs. Reichle out taking pictures?

"YES, VERY!"

Ready for her first homecoming is Freshmen Heather Coffman.

Getting her eyebrows done for the big night is sophomore Amanda Sobczak.

Holly Coffman

"I was really Surprised to to see Mrs. Reichle at the hair salon where I was gettng my hair and nails done."

"My Favorite part of Homecoming was being with all my friends."

"I was surprised and embarrassed to see Mrs. Reichle out because my hair wasn't done and I looked terrible."

Holly Beversdorf

About to vacuum out his car Kyle Kierpaul gives a quick smile for the camera.

"My favorite part of Homecoming was getting freaky with all the hot chicks."

Andrew Kent

Getting her nails done at her Karon Gorde's Salon is Freshmen Robin French.

Watch out for that hair! Don't worry though, Cassie Biscorner isn't quite done getting her hair ready for the dance tonight.

Ashley Logan

"My avorite part of Homecoming was getting to hang out with all my friends, and dance all night long to the great music."

Hiding her face fro the camera is sophomore Lindsay Dandron.

Look who thinks he's cool driving around in his uncles Mustang GT, none other than Nick Kammer.

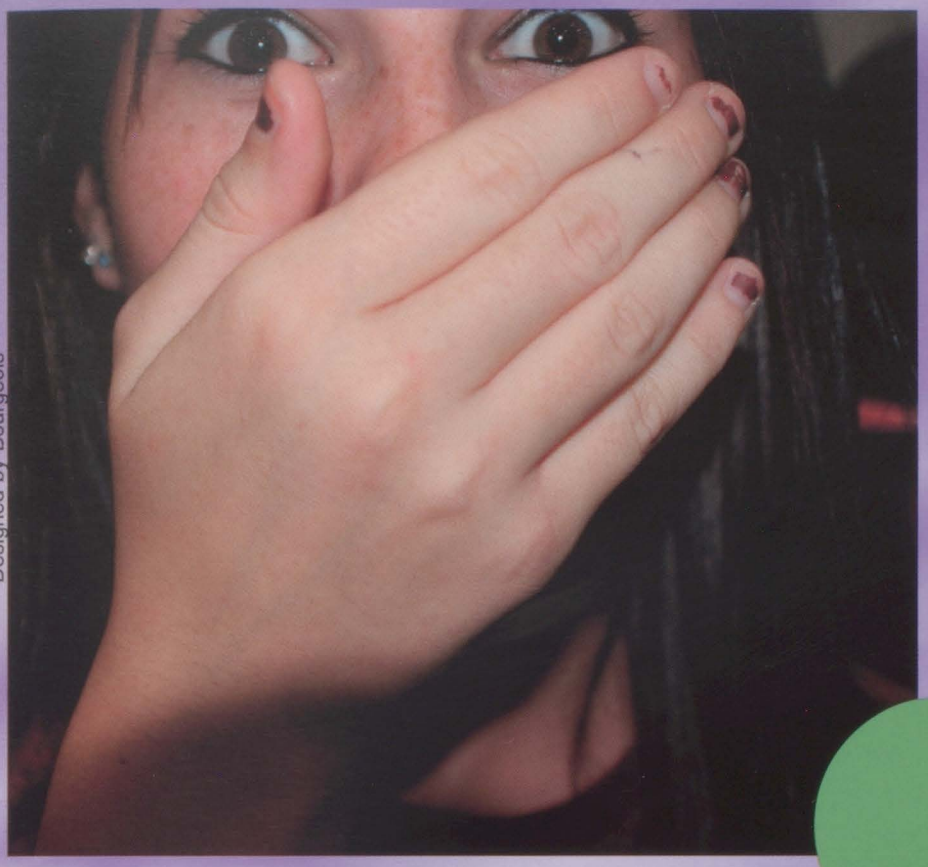

"My favorite part of homecoming was preparing for the dance, then picking up my girlfriend Holly for dinner."

Homecoming Spirit Week

A week of spirit helped make Homecoming 2004 at Marine City High School one of the most successful of all time. Many students participated in the random days set up by the members of Student Government. On Monday, kids dressed up in disguise. One of the more popular disguises was Keith and Kevin Cherluck dressing up as eachother. Keith wore Kevin's football uniform to school and Kevin displayed the number 22 from the soccer team. The next day was homemade t-shirt day. It was very enjoyable and many students worked hard the night before to have the most creative shirt at school.

Wednesday was an entertaining day where students had a variety of ways to dress however they felt with "Hollywood: Old & New." Most kids dressed up as famous actors and actresses, while some wore the classic black and white colors of Hollywood. Ian Eakins and D.J. McKellar dressed as "Starsky & Hutch." They dressed the part and even acted like them throughout the day! Their picture was taken as a poster for the dance. Thursday was class color day for the Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors, and toga day for the Seniors. The seniors really enjoyed the day when they brought in old bed sheets and tied them up to accomplish the role of the toga. It was definitely a favorite for the seniors.

The week finished up with school spirit day. Almost the entire school wore orange and black and helped to support the Mariner Football team who would cruise to victory that night against Clintondale. The Seniors ended up winning Spirit Week. The sophomores followed just behind the dominating Seniors. Coming in third were the juniors. They beat out the freshmen by only a little bit. A pleasant surprise to this week was also the participation of the staff. They chipped in to make this week lots of fun. The Spirit Week for this year was an immense delight and had the whole school come together to get wound up for the homecoming dance on Saturday evening.

Cut, tie, cut, tie...cut, and tie. This is what it takes to build a MCHS Homecoming float. Students here at MCHS start building thier floats one week before the big game. For the Freshmen, the first challenge is to learn how to create a masterpiece that will be great enough to beat out the reigning float bulding champions, the Seniors. Plastic table cloths, chicken wire and two by fours graced the floors of the builders garages. Mr. Warkentien, the Freshmen class advisor led the Freshmen to a second place tie with the Junior float, led by Mrs. Biebuyck.

Tied for first place were the Seniors, led by Mrs. Burmann, and the Sophomores, led by Mr. Rhein. The Senior float, built at Joe Aprile's house, was created from the movie Shrek. The Sophomores, who also tied for first, built a life sized shark from the movie Jaws.

Freshmen tie for 2nd place.

Sophomores tie for 1st place.

Juniors tie for 2nd place.

"It was a blast and a privilege to be Homecoming Queen," exclaimed our very own Kelly Rons, when asked what she thought of the Homecoming experience. Like Rocky Maynard, she was proud, thrilled, and appreciative when she found out about being picked for court. The rest of the court shares in Rocky's and Kelly's enthusiasm in being chosen for their royal positions. Being on court allows students from MCHS to experience many different aspects of the Homecoming weekend. Riding in wicked sweet convertibles, being featured in the half time show, and basking in the spotlight at the dance are a few of the things these royal individuals get to experience.

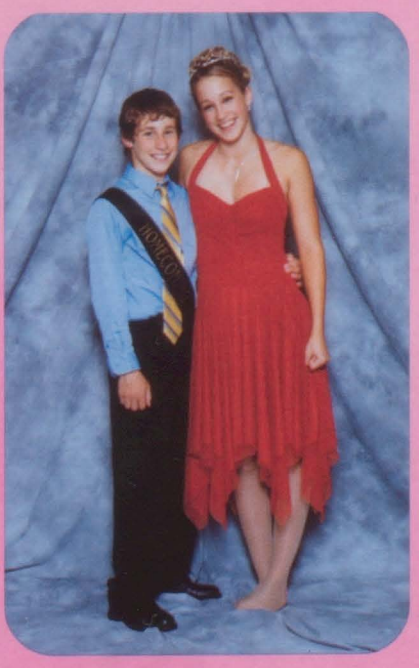

Kelly and Rocky decided to graciously display their attire while wearing each others crowns during the parade. King Rocky said that switching crowns was his favorite moment of being on court, and he looked stunning in Kelly's tiara, while Kelly specifically enjoyed playing football in her elegant dress and high heels. Ironically, both the King and the Queen arrived at the dance one hour late, one due to van troubles, and the other because of dinner difficulties. Kelly thanks all those who voted for her for making her Senior Homecoming the best, and she gives a special thanks to God, she said, "without his inspiration, I would not be the person I am today." To Kelly, Rocky, and the rest of the court, thank you for being great examples to the rest of us, and representing Marine City High School. Congratulations!!!

The deejay's base pounded as students filed into the gymnasium, everybody hyped up and apprehensive. The big game against Clintondale was mere hours away, and the rush was beginning to set in. After each class took their traditional places in the bleachers, and the deejay welcomed Marine City to the assembly, the atmoshphere dropped down a notch.

A slow song came on, and coronation commenced. Freshman through senior court representatives appeared in the back of the gym, stealing everyone's breathe with their stunning gowns and suits. Dressed to impress, they glided between the color guards, stepping slowly to a soft song and short profile. Each couple was crowned and named. King Rocky and Queen Kelly shared a lively and honest speech with everyone present. After receiving the homecoming game ball, they took their seats to enjoy the rest of the assembly.

Suddenly, Michael Jackson's "Thriller" bursts from the speakers, and all attention is on the back of the gym as the cheerleaders whip around. Smooth and flawless, the routine was step for step. Offering one more dance, the girls flashed sweet stunts and smiles.

Then, "Let the games begin!" Following events laden with helmets, plungers, marshmallows, skateboards, footballs, and tug-of-war rope, the winners were pronounced: seniors! The battle cry echoed through the halls as the students were dismissed, and homecoming weekend 2004 begins!

You couldn't miss Marine City High School on the beautiful night of October 9, 2004. From miles away you could see spotlights that lit up the night sky. Guarding the doors when you came in were Coach Bob and Mr. Scarcelli. The guests elegantly walked down the red carpet to the dance they had been anticipating since the beginning of the year. Movie posters and glittering stars welcomed gowns and tuxes in to the Reichle-inspired theme of Hollywood Nights.

The deejay kept the ladies and gentlemen swirling across the dance floor all night long. The songs "A Moment Like This" and "Friends in Low PLaces" distinguished the two most significant dances; the homecoming court and the senior circle. Students could be seen taking pictures in front of the Hollywood Hills on the back wall of the gym. When they were parched or famished they could enjoy snacks in the Hollywood Cafe located in the student activity center.

When the night was finished every one left with the satisfaction of a wonderful evening. As limos waited outside for their occupant's students recalled all the memories made at this years homecoming.

Seniors Rule!

The annual Juniors verses Seniors Powderpuff Football game was a huge success. Everyone seemed to have fun, and even the coaches and Cheerleaders. All the players did an excellent job, although the Seniors prevailed.

The excitement began during sixth hour on October 13th, when the Seniors read their rhyming challenge to the Juniors. The Juniors answered the threat with a poem of their own. All the girls were pumped up and ready for the game at six o'clock.

The Juniors arrived to the game first via a giant semi. They showed up with painted faces and ready to play. The Seniors made a fashionably late entrance, on a school bus decorated with their names and numbers. The Seniors themselves were also in spirit and entered the field chanting.

The Juniors were coached by Ian Eakins, DJ McKeller, Aaron Herman, Ian Walker, and Keith Emery. The Senior coaches were John Stevens and Jason Bell, who's impression of coach Bob was exceptional. The varsity football coaches acted as the referees to ensure a "fair" game.

The first play of the game Junior Janine Jenkin scored a touchdown. The Seniors, wanting retribution, quickly scored two touchdowns of their own, both made by Heather Fordt. As the game continued, Victoria Vintevoghel scored another touchdown for the Seniors. The game ended with a score of 18-6, the Seniors were victorious once again.

This year's Winterfest spirit week was a spicy one. South of he border was the theme and students showed off their school spirit all week. Arriving at school on Monday, students looked a little extra sleepy in their pajama's and slippers. On Tuesday it was time for summer in the winter as students sported their summer attire along with hats and sunglasses. Wednesday was deffinatley whacky. Students came to school looking as though they had gotten dressed in the dark and had their hair done by a blind man. Thursday students demontrated their taste in music and sports on concert t-shirt day or sports team day. The week ended in a classic orange and black day. At the beginning of the week it looked as though the juniors had the spirit week polls on lock. Little did they know that the seniors had another thing in store for them. When 6th hour on friday the 11th rolled around it was time for the pep assembly. The seniors dominated the pep assembly games without a sense of remorse for the underclassmen. All in all, spirit week gave the students a chance to show off their creativity and more importantly school spirit.

Hearts raced as the announcment came on to declare the 2005 Winterfest Court. The Freshman chose for their winterfest representatives Brooke Bindscheattel and Jonathon Firman. The Sophomore representatives were Brian Zimmerman and Sarah Becker. The Junior Princesses were Lindsay Ostin and Heather Smith. The Junior Princes were David Gemente and Paul Gale. For their last year Seniors choose Prince Matt Salisbury and Princesses Ami Moeller and Prince Ryan Warren and Amanda Vintevoghel.

The whole student body voted for King and Queen but they weren't revealed until the pep assembly. After much anticipation they were reaveled and crowned King Kyle Dawe and Queen Nina Barnes. When the crowning was finished the court watched as the Seniors dominated the Pep Assembly. After many pictures the court was finally excused along with the rest of the student body.

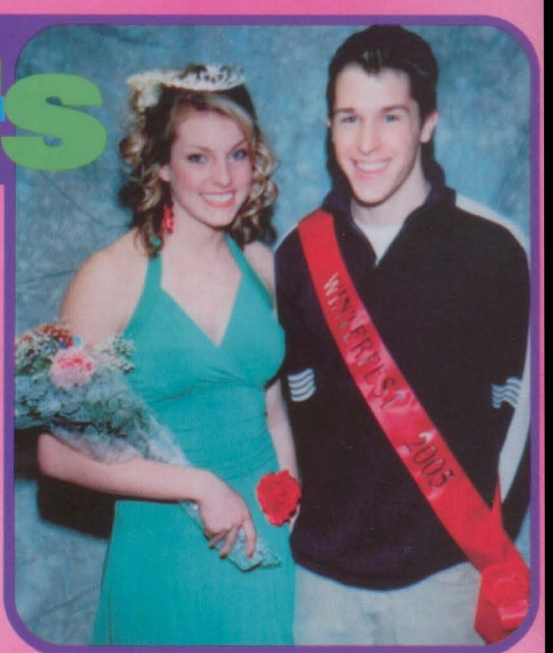

Their excitment continued on Saturday while at the dance. The court could be distingushed by the crowns that decorated their heads. Their last appearance for the 2005 Winterfest court was during their Court dance to In the Air Tonight by Phil Collins.

Seniors Win!

Another successful year for the Seniors.

The Winterfest assembly started when the students were called down to the gym on Friday, February 11th at the beginning of sixth hour. The Winterfest court was announced and immediately the excited students quieted to watch as the court was presented. After all of the princes and princesses were seated, anticipation heightened, and the king and queen were announced. Once coronation had finished, the games began.

First was Dizzy Basketball, where the students spun around on a baseball bat and then ran down to the other end, trying to make a basket. The seniors won thanks to Danielle Meldrum and Geanette Grove.

Next was the clothes relay, where participants had to dress up, run down to the other end, and switch costumes. The twist was that they had to carry a balloon between thier legs. Seniors prevailed, aquiring a second win.

Tug-O-War was third, with the seniors obtaining the victory yet again.

The fourth game played was musical pillows. Musical pillows was played just like musical chairs, except the pillows replaced chairs. It ended up being an intense game between sophomores and seniors, with the sophomores taking their first win.

Limbo was the last game played, including not only students, but also some enthusiastic teachers. The champion of the limbo was Shane Markel, a senior, making the seniors triumphant once more.

Finally, the assembly was wrapped up with the traditional V-I-C-T-O-R-Y cheer, where the seniors conquered yet again.

Winterfest 2005
South of the Border

Ruffled skirts and brightly colored flowers speckled a Salsa Cafe. Silk shirts with unbuttoned collars and giant, vividly colored sombreros dotted a dessert landscape. Coiled ribbon of every color hung gracefully, transforming the school halls into a South of the Border Wonderland. The D.J. played everything from rap and rock to country and swing, and everyone's requests were filled.

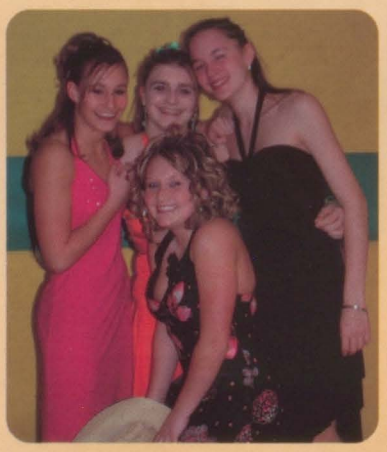

Among the attendees at the Winterfest Dance were a taco, a pinata, and a cactus! How could the dance have been anyhting but fun? Costume contest winners included Paul Gale, Jessica Gistinger, Tony Roberts, Alicia Klaassen, Mike Stephenson, Megan Swartz, and Sam Retell.

Salsa was the dance of the evening, and everyone had a great time on the dance floor. Tired out from the energetic and vigorous dancing, students retired into the activities area. Pinata drops hung from the ceiling, and boldly colored cloths covered the tables. The Salsa Cafe provided nacho chips and salsa dip, along with water and soda. A desert skyline bordered a fun-filled evening- un tiempo bueno (good time) for all!

T-A-L-E-N-T! That is what every particapant of the Marine City High School 2005 Talent Show had. There were dancers, singers, poets, and musicians. The talent show's MC was the wonderful Christiana Schmitz. This year, the talent show was put on by Mrs. Coverdill and NHS. The night started off with an act by The Plutonians. The members of The Plutonians are Dan Stover, Alex Maggetti, and D.J. McKellar. They played an original piece called "Five Feet From Paradise." The second act of the night was a spectacular dance done by The Sirens. The members of The Sirens are Amanda Furtah, Sylvia Hamara, Janine Jenken, Courtney Johnson, Sara Keasley, Deanna Rybarczyk, Karie Schmid, Andrea Spiekhout, and Amy Walentovic. Leah Numbers followed up with a beautiful song. She's quite the crowd pleaser. Maggie Capps recited one of her own poems with great affection. The crowd was stunned by her breathtaking performance. Doing it Napolean Dynamite style, D.J. McKellar showed off his flippin' sweet dance skills. The second to last act was performed by Leah Numbers. She did another one of her touching songs. The last act was a song by The Plutonians. The played another original of their's called "Turkey Sammich." Overall the Marine City High School 2005 Talent Show was a great turn out and a great fundraiser for NHS.

Staff vs. Student

Basketball game

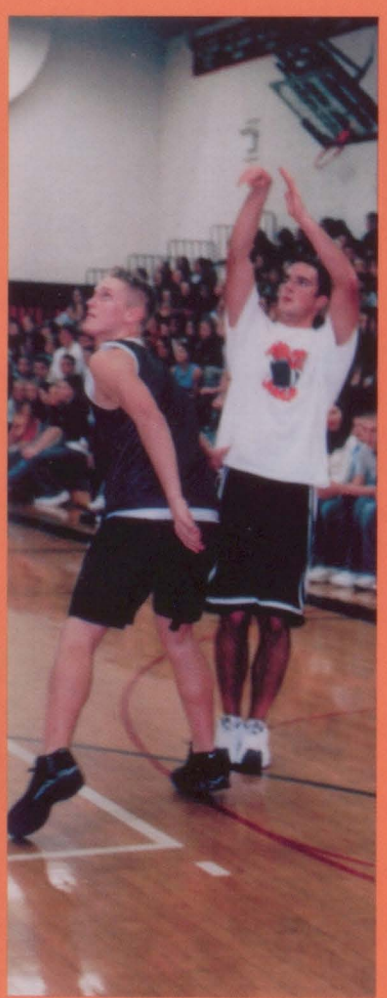

For the fourth consecutive year, the staff prevailed in the Staff-Student game. Though the game was close throughout, the staff ultimately pulled out a 60-56 victory in front of a raucous crowd. The entire school attended the game, and were treated to the commentary of Mr. McCulloch and Senor Mox. The students believed that this was the year to beat a graying staff, with Mr. Letson, Mr. Daly, Mr. Leeman, and Mr. Fregetto pushing 30, and Mr. Shagena abstaining from participating due to chronic hair loss. However, an infusion of new talent, including Mrs. Shagena, Ms. Sheehy, Mr. Gwisdala, and most notably, Mr. Moore, enabled the staff to keep its perfect record intact. The students were also undermined by an unfortunate injury to sharpshooter Lauren Warkentien. The game, which also functioned as a holiday fundraiser, was a success for all that participated, both in the game and through donations to the Old Newsboys.

What was your favorite part of the staff vs. student basketball game?

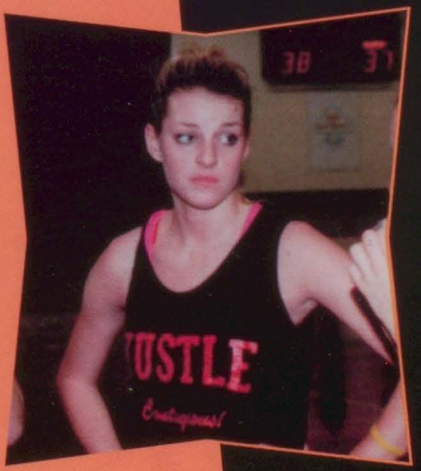

"The fantastic play by play commentary by Senior Mox and myself. The musical selections were awesome as well."
~ Mr. MuCulloch

"My favorite part of the game was when Matt Schlinder dunked the ball."
~ Matt Salisbury

"Being able to combine the senior girls and guys basketball players into the ultimate team, and also being left with a scar on my chin."
~ Lauren Warkentien

"Scoring all the points and guarding/shutting down Mr. Gwisdala."
~ Ami Moeller

Good Grief!

You're a Good Man Charlie Brown

We all felt that mysterious force lurking in the hallway as Charlie Brown neared its opening night; the many posters of Peanuts characters plastered on several classroom windows, the ticket sales at lunch, the enthusiasm in Mr. McCulloch. There were only two seniors in the cast, Megan Gross as Lucy, and Sarah Welch as Snoopy, the rest were either freshman, sophomores, or Juniors.Their performances, however, were top notch. Many elements go into a play that allow for the production to be formed and completed, including: A.V. Crew, backstage crew, cast, pit band, and of course the director, Jay McCulloch. Then there's the humorous and disgusting drama moments, like when Alex Maggetti dove head first into a trash can after Mr. McCulloch specifically asked for, "No more Alex moments," and the year old SPAM that was consumed by some of the Mariner Drama Company members...you know who you are!

The play itself was superb, on a scale of one to 100, one being worst, 50 being average, and 75 being excellent, I would rate it at 100. Between Lucy's psychiatric advice, Shroeder's obsession worth the late composer Beethoven, and Charlie Brown's pathetic affection toward the "red-haired girl," the auditorium was filled with laughter. Congrats to the Mariner Drama Company for an excellent show! Good Grief...What a Great Play!

Above: Rocking out on the drums in the pit band is Noe Rivard.

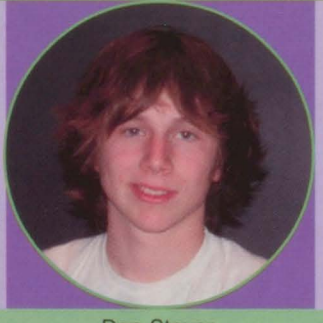

What has Mariner Drama instilled into you?

Kelly Rons

Kelly Rons: "Mariner drama has shown me that everyone has something to offer despite their many differences."

Dan Stover: "Drama gives me a great sense of pride. It's the only way I can truly express myself in theatre.

Dan Stover

Amanda Vintevoghel: "Mariner Drama has taught me to put aside differences and work together as a group to create a successful production."

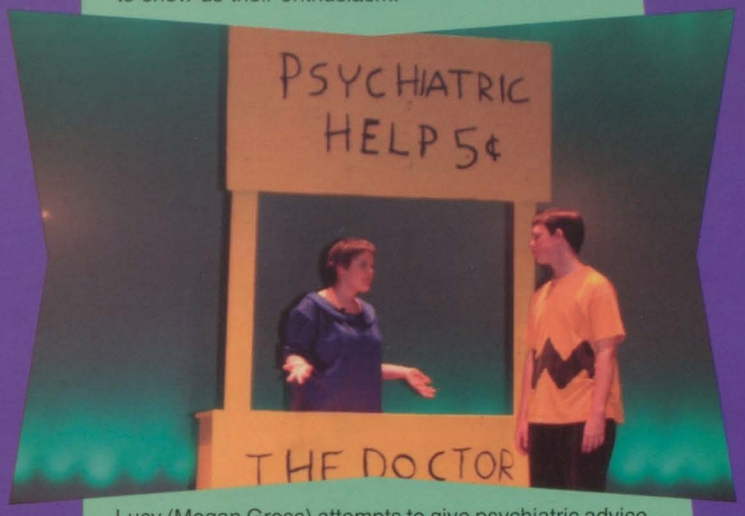

Amanda Vintevoghel

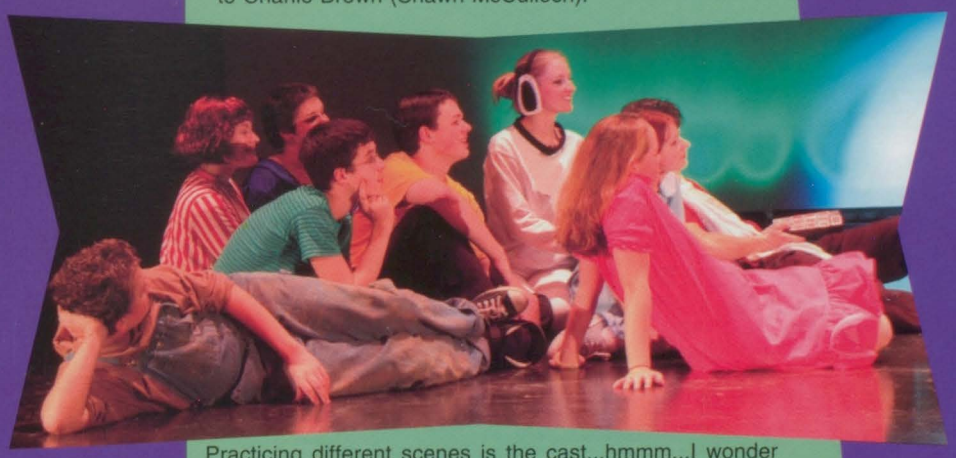

...CHARLIE BROWN

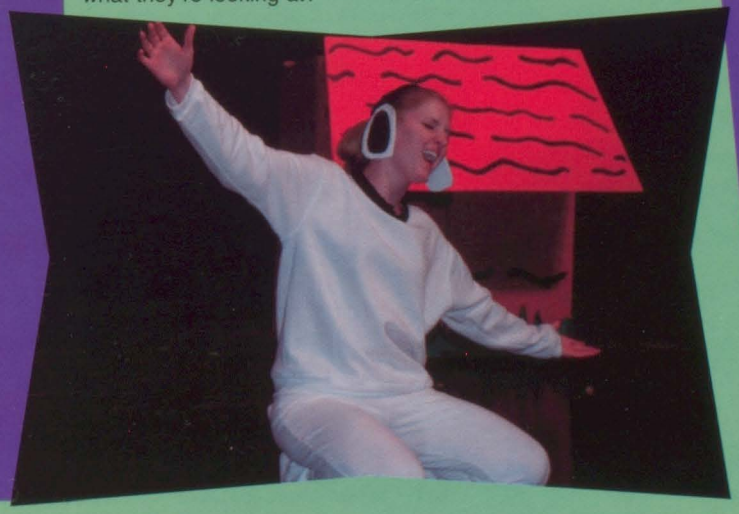

The cast takes a minute from their extensive practice to show us their enthusiasm.

Lucy (Megan Gross) attempts to give psychiatric advice to Charlie Brown (Shawn McCulloch).

Practicing different scenes is the cast...hmmm...I wonder what they're looking at?

Left: Snoopy (Sarah Welch) outstretches her arms to the crowd. A great finish to her wonderful performance.

The Crucible

"A fire! A fire is burning!"

Above: Charles Alongi looks on as Dave Packer throws down Jaime Dunsmore

Are you feeling afflicted? You would be if you were a part of the play, or if you attended to see it. Mariner Drama hosted their rendition of the Crucible in the winter of 2005 on February 25th and 26th. "The Crucible" was performed in front of a live audience at the St. Clair Auditorium. The cast and crew worked long and hard during tech weeks. It was rough, but everyone pulled together to get the job done and had a good time in the process. The cast was led by, David Packer who played the role of John Proctor, Alaina Korpal as Elizabeth Proctor, Jaime Dunsmore as Abigail Williams, Ami Moeller as Mary Warren, Greg Wnuk as Reverend Parris, Allen Yokom as Reverend Hale, Charles Alongi as Judge Hathorne, and Sean O'Brien as Judge Danforth. There were three performances held in St. Clair for everyone to attend. The tenth grade class got a sneak peak at the play on Friday before the very first performance. The cast and crew ended on Saturday with a bang for there last performance. The actors did a tremendous job portraying their feelings to the audience in such a way that people left with tears in their eyes. This play was a mixture of several different emotions, such as amazement, anticipation and sorrow. Mariner drama has once again outdone themselves with another spectacular play!

What was your favorite part of "The Crucible" ?

" I really liked the ending because not only did it look sweet, the acting was sweet, and John Proctor dies for what he believed in."

~ Lacey Bassett

"I liked the part where Sean O'Brien shouted his Anti-Christ lines at Dave Packer."

~ Andrea Spiekhout

"My favorite part of the play was the court scene, it just came together and turned out awsome."

~ Allen Yokom

Student Government

Make It Happen!

Another productive year for Student Government began long before even classes resumed. Freshmen orientation and help a teacher day were among the first of Student Government's endeavors, and both events gave a helping hand where needed. Fall came, and the first major event brought to light- Homecoming. Hollywood Nights was a smash hit, and history was made when the spotlight seen on I-94 lead to Marine City High School. Even after the dance, the students kept busy with many events, including a staff-student basketball game, admittance price being three cans of food to be donated. The results were flooring- 3,566 cans. The club only continued to benifit the school by sponsoring Winterfest, blood drives, powderpuff volleyball, and teacher appreciation day, among many other school events.

Student Government of 2005 consisted of 82 students and was led by President Christiana Schmitz, Vice President Kyle Dawe, Secretary Janae VanTiem, and Treasurer Amber Duddy. With advisors Mrs. Reichle and Mrs. Sagan, Student Govenrment continues to "make it happen".

SADD

Students Against Drunk Driving

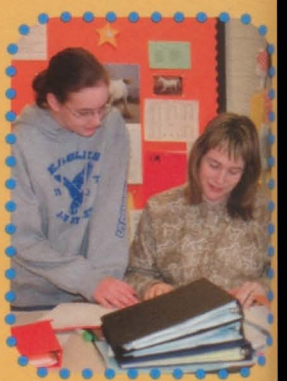

Above: Erin Kephart and sign in before the meeting starts.

The objective of SADD is to "try to provide alternative activities for students and make sure to spread the word of the consequences of drinking and driving," said Ms. Kerr. She is the advisor of the club SADD, students against drunk driving. The reason for the club SADD, and the reason students join, it is to try and inform the community about the dangers of drinking and driving. This year the group has forty members. Four of the members are "special helpers" who organize and set-up what everyone is supposed to do. The helpers are Jackie Defer, Alyssa Yeip, Erin Kephart, and Sarah Hauke.

This fall, SADD marched in the Homecoming parade and handed out ribbons to the crowd that reminded the people of the dangers of drinking and driving. Also, volunteers in the group participated in White-out day. White-out day is when volunteer members paint their faces completely white to symbolize someone who has died in a drunk driving accident. The participants increase as the day goes on to show how many people are victims as time continues. The "dead" people can't talk all day to make the situation seem realistic.

SADD also helped the staff with donating presents to a needy family at Christmas time. They made cookies and gave them to EMS stations in St. Clair County for the Christmas season. In May SADD plans to hold the annual Mock-crash for the seniors to remind students of the dangers of drinking and driving. The group also got a lot of help from co-advisor Mrs. Allagreen.

What is your favorite thing about being in SADD?

~ Cleste Wegrzyn

Right: "Spreading awarness about drunk driving."

Teens Against Tobacco Use: The group is in its 9th year here at Marine City High School and they believe that they are making a difference. T.A.T.U. is a group of high school students led by Mrs. Pizzo that use factual information to put together fun and exciting presentations to impress upon 4th grade students the effects of smoking.

This year the 50 participants broke down into 5-6 member teams to cover on of three areas- effects on smoking, advertising and effective ways to say no. The fall schedule was a grueling one but the students did it! They visited every elementary school twice in the East China School District plus St. Mary's in St. Clair. Every group worked hard to make their presentation but Jenna Frank and her effects on the body group came through with flying colors. She wrote a story about a 4th grader who missed the 4th grade T.A.T.U. presentation and therefore didn't have the knowledge on the hazzards of smoking and became a "smoker"! Using an overhead projector, a clear bowl, and a variety of gross ingredients to resemble a human lung, the team got their point across and made a tremendous effect on the students!

What is your favorite thing about being in TATU?

"TATU has taught me that you need to be organized in order to give a good presentation."
~ Cheri Albers

"It has taught me how to work with little kids better."

Business Professionals of America

TODAY'S STUDENTS

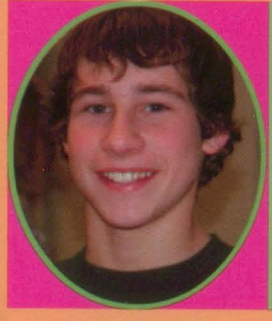

TOMORROW'S BUSINESS PROFESSIONALS

Business Professionals of America received a new advisor this year. Mrs. Shagena did a wonderful job picking up the club, as well as its associated store. The twenty-four members all did an outstanding job at their first competition held at Baker College, and an overwhelming majority qualified for States. BPA states were held for the second year in Grand Rapids in March, and it was a great time for all. President Kristina Schmid, Vice President Lauren Warkentien, Secretary Aubrey Zimmerman, Treasurer Brent Welser, Historian Georgia Dewey, and Parle Pro Ami Moeller all led the students to learn and experience a great deal in Business Professionals of America this year.

What competitions did you participate in this year?

NHS

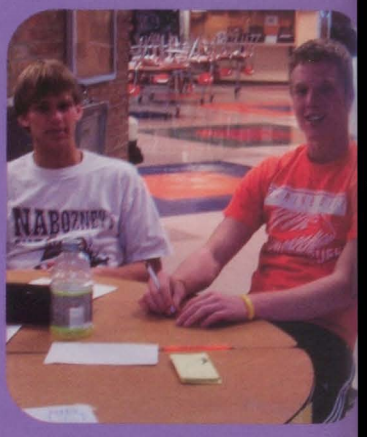

National Honor Society

Mrs. Coverdill, Advisor

Another successful year is tallied up for the multi- tasking club at MCHS, National Honor Society. This year has gone by quickly and the many members from the Junior and Senior classes had a great time helping out their community, The group was led by advisor, Mrs. Coverdill and President, Noel Rivard. NHS was engaged in tutoring at the Marine City Library, sending birthday cards to the folks at Mallards Landing, working the concession stands at numerous basketball and volleyball games, and spending time at the Festival of Trees. This year was the first time for the NHS group to work for Habitat for Humanity. The chosen students spent four hours of their day helping build a house in Algonac for those in need. It was a huge accomplishment for the entire group. They also spent the last week of school in 2004 by giving presents to their Secret Santa's. Students met on the last day before break and had lunch in the band room. Everyone had a fun time and enjoyed recieving little goodies each day. Overall, the year for NHS was totally successful and a great place to be.

Ecology Club

Making a Difference

Above: Planting flowers in the courtyard is Mrs. Lindstrom.

The Marine City High School Ecology Club was very busy this year recycling hundreds of pounds of paper throughout the school. Students also participated in the fall and spring session of "Adopt a Stream" program through the MSU extension site. Students have been monitoring a section of the Belle River in East China Park for water and wildlife quality.

Our annual snowshoeing field trip also draws a lot of interest from kids as a growing type of winter exercise in Michigan. Many students also enjoy working in the courtyard habitat area which provides a natural view to students as they pass in the hallway. The Ecology Club, nevertheless, through its hard work and dedication, has bettered the environment and the world in which we live.

Class of

FOUR Years, ONE Class

The past four years, from 2001-2005, a particularly close and audacious class has attended Marine City High School, and in those four years, there was much to be learned. Freshmen year began. Everyone was adjusting to becoming a "big" high schooler now. Sophomore year, everyone had found a medium. We discovered the freedom that driving brings, and also the responsibilities. Junior year, we achieved the label of "upper classman." Friendships grew, and we realized some would be life long. Finally, our senior year arrives, and it occurs to us that there is life outside of Marine City. Plans are made, applications sent out, and we enjoy every moment of our last of everything in high school.

The two hundred student Class of 2005 graduates taking experience and education...leaving memories and influence.

The Junior class officers had many different ideas, and much to accomplish this year. With teamwork and dedication they were able to get things done. The Junior class President was Kelly Kucharski, Vice President was Janine Jenken, Secretary was Aubrey Zimmerman, and the Treasurer was Alyssa Yeip. It all could not have been possible without the help of their class advisor, Mrs. Biebuyck.

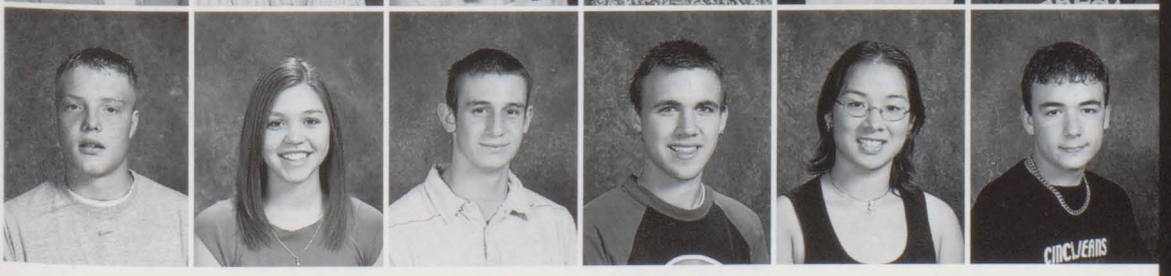

The year started off with float building. The Junior's made a Hollywood clap board, crushing the opposing team's mascot which was a dragon, on a trailer decorated with their class colors, orange and white. There was a lot of participation by the Junior class as a whole, ending in success with the Junior Float tieing for second.

The class participation continued when the Juniors hosted the annual Junior verse Senior Powder Puff Game and the Rock-A-Thon. These two fundraisers help to raise money for prom which is the main responsibilty of the Junior class. Juniors were able to raise over $2000, which helped to make the prom night one to remember.

Class of 2007

President Sarah Hauke led the Sophomore class this year, along with Vice President, Jamie Favazza, Secretary, Riley Bradley, and Treasurer, John Strieter. Serving as the Sophomore class advisor this year was Assisant Principal, Mr. Rhein.

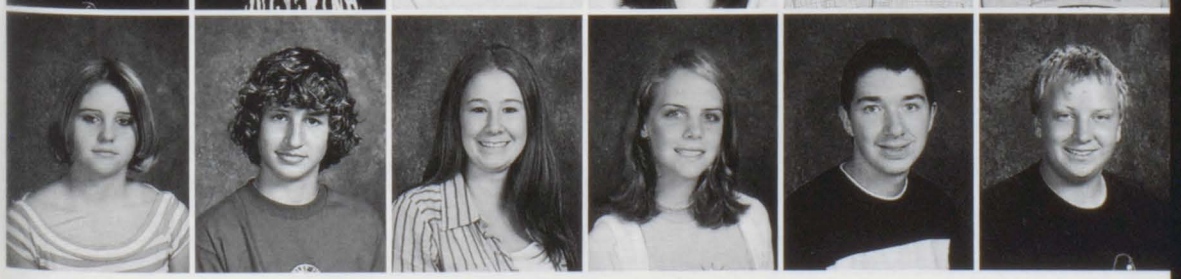

As a class, the Sophomores adopted the colors astro blue and black as their official class colors. These colors will be used at their graduation in 2007.

This year, float building was held at Lauren Aures house, where they built an immense float based on the thriller/horror movie Jaws. Impressively, the Sophomore class tied for first place with the Seniors for their float, (which is an exceptional achievement for underclassmen.)

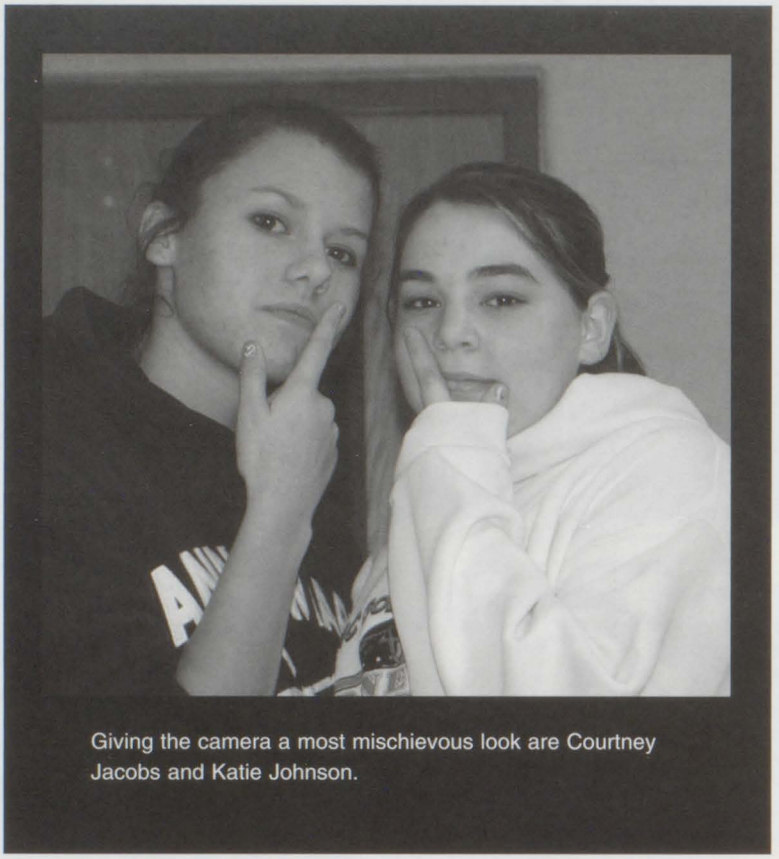

In addition to float building, the class officers were involved in fundraising, dances, community service projects, and other school events that were affiliated with Student Government. Needless to say, their plates were full with activites that benefitted the Sophomore class and ultimately Marine City High School.

CLASS OFFICERS

From being top dogs in middle school to being the underdogs in high school, the class of 2008 has come along way. Being in high school has its up's and down's but getting to experience all the great things we do here is a major plus. Homecoming is something that for everyone who attended, will never be forgotten. Home football games filled with cheers of the crowd, as the entire town bonds together for one reason, to cheer on the mighty Mariners. Tying the Juniors for second place in the float building was a great accomplishment fro anyone who helped out.

This years class officers were Aubrey Smith President, Megan Tomasek Vice President, Leah Kane Secretary, and Angela Wescott Treasurer. With great leadership sported by the class officers and Mr. Warkentien, the Freshmen are on their way to a wonderful next three years.

FOOTBALL

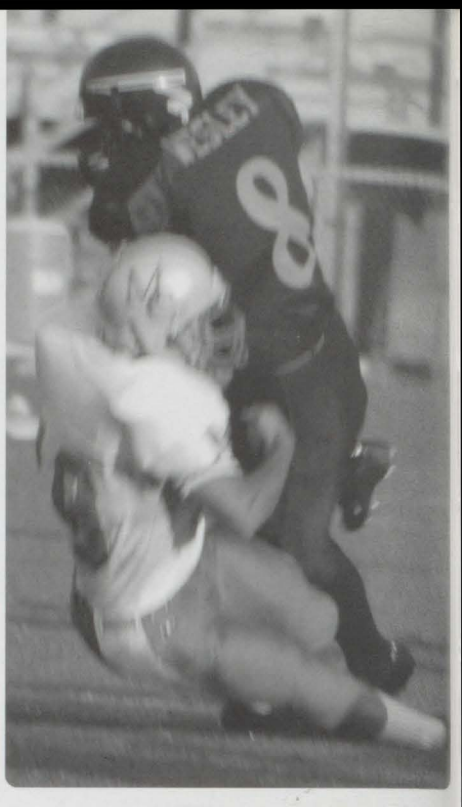

"What's important now?" That has been the motto the Mariner team has followed during their great 2004 season. Whatever needed to be done in school; whatever needed to be done in practice; or whatever needed to be done in the game, they took care of it.

The team started off the season with a win on thier shoulders against Mt. Clemens. Many games were to follow. They worked through pain, sweat, and countless injuries to do what the needed to do to beat their opponent. They had many challenges along the road to victory. Key wins during the season were with St. Clair, Marysville, and Clintondale. These opponents have always provided a challenge and have been healthy rivals; literally fueling the driving force and determination behind the Mariner offense and defense.

The regular season ended with a 49-0 shutout against Lake Shore, finishing their regular season as MAC Gold Champs, going 9-0, being the 4th undefeated team in Marine City history. They shutout six teams and made it to the playoffs for the 14th year in a row. The Mariners were ranked first in the Blue Water Area.

Playoffs consisted of a 24-7 victory against Algonac. Next, the District Champions ended there 2004 season when they lost in Regional play to Grosse Ille.

CHEER

Imagine holding a 120 pound girl high above your head in the air, using nothing but your two hands, or picture being the girl getting thrown 20 feet into the air, trusting that your teammates below are there to catch you. Trust is a key aspect in the sport of cheerleading, without it, the team could not have reached its full potential, and the gymnastics and stunting part would be impossible. This team has shown true heart and dedication to the sport of cheerleading in its abitity to work together for a common cause-the cause to inspire and lead the enthusiasm of fans. Unity among the girls originated back in the summer while at cheerleading camp. It was there that they learned various new stunts and how to perfectly execute different gymnastic skills to keep the crowd entertained.

Being a Marine City Varsity Cheerleader means having the motivation to push forward. Understanding what these girls stand for is the key to understanding who they are and dedication they put into their sport. Just look at the back of the girl's shirts and you can begin to realize what they're all about; they truely understand that, "success stops when you do!"

SOCCER

This year's boy's Varsity Soccer team had a young look with seven freshmen joining the roster. Young but very aggressive; their abilities give high potential to the team in years to come. "I am very pleased with this team- they did an awesome job with so many of them being first year player's" said coach John Pizzo.

At the opposite end two Seniors Brian Barill and Scott Battiata, decided to give soccer a try for the first time and both were a great asset to the team. All this new blood came with hard work and determination and blended well with the veteran players.

As his tradition, assistant coach Jim Sobczak immediately attached nicknames to all the players. This way when he yelled to them during a game only the players knew who he was talking to. The team was led by senior Keith Cherluck, Mark MacGregor and Mike Miller. Keith led the team in goals by scoring 23 for the year.

The Mariner soccer team finished 5th in league play with a record of 5-6-1 in the MAC. Their overall record was 6-10-3. The Mariners were stopped in the first game of district play against Lapeer East with a score of 4-0.

SWIM

Although young, this team knew how to get things done. Ending the season with a 7-4 overall record, a 4-0 MAC Silver record, Dual Meet MAC Champions and MAC Silver Divional Champions, this squad exempliflies what it takes to be a successful team.

This year's team had strong leadership from Senior captians Julie Bowden and Kristina Schmid, coupled with the depth and spirit of the Juniors, that led the team to their dual titles. Chelsie Smith (Diving), Nichole Lubinski (Breast), and Heather MIller (Fly) were all league finshers. Chelsie Smith also qualified for the Regional Diving Meet.

A solid Sophomore group posted great swimming performance thoughout the season. Finally, making a huge impact on the swim team were the Freshman, who proved that great things come to those who work hard. With all of the new young swimmer s on this team, watch out for them next year!

League and Divisional Champs

Designed by Warkentien

GOLF

Mac Silver Champs! The Marine City Golf Team began their season with high hopes of a winning season, and they ended it with a MAC Silver Championship. The Mariners capped off their season with an amazing 10 - 0 record in the league, and 10 - 1 overall losing only to crosstown rival St. Clair. A large part of their success was due to the intense leadership and impressive playing skills of captains Matt Dietlin and John Griffith. Other key players include: Kyle Krueger, Brent Welser, Alex Bassett, and Paul Gale.

The Mariners practiced every day since mid August, whether it was morning, evening, raining or shining. The devotion of this team propelled them through the regular season with remarkable success and drove them powerfully into the post season.

In the post season the Mariners won the divisional tournament, and made a strong 8th place showing at the regional tournament. Led by Brent Welser's school record tying 76. The Mariners took their division title by an impressive 10 strokes.

The following week, Kyle Krueger fired a 79 at the regional tournament to be the first Mariner to advance to the state qualifier, where he was just one stroke shy of further advancement. The Mariners truly had a year to remember.

BASKETBALL

Beginning in the summer, the girls' basketball team went to work. They attended Saginaw Valley and Grand Valley team camp. Making improvements early helped. The team became closer and figured that if they were going to be successful this season it would take a team. Remembering back at camp, Megan Mills commented on how fun it was to be with the team. "I'll always remember the whole team playing football in the streets outside Mr.Leeman's parents house with all the neighbors watching."

The team came out strong starting the first five games out on a winning streak. The team was in the Mac Gold division and every team was very competitive. Georgia Dewey said, "Everyone pushed each other in practices and we stuck together and never gave up." This was a definite character change from last years season. Senior Stacey Stackpoole agreed, "When we started to lose the Seniors (Megan Mills, Ami Moeller, Kelly Rons, Stacey Stackpoole, and Lauren Warkentien) helped the team stay positive. The effort was there every game win or loss."The biggest league game the girls competed in was against Lakeveiw. The game went into over time and Marine City worked hard for the win. Last home game brought about some drive in the girls. Finishing the league play with a win over Lincoln was a huge upset. It was the first time Marine City beat Lincoln in six straight games. The team ended up fourth in the league.

When districts came around the team was ready to battle. Drawing Algonac the first game gave the girls a chance to prove themselves. Coming out strong the girls dominated Algonac. Next they faced Cros-Lex(19-1). It was a hard fought game and the girls kept ahead until the fourth quarter. Although some tears were left after the game, the juniors and sophomore realized what they have to do for next year. As for the seniors they contributed to a great season and will be missed. The girls came together as a team, worked hard, and gave their best effort all year!

TENNIS

The Lady Mariner Tennis team improves year after year, and this season was no exception to that rule. Of course this season wouldn't have been possible with out the tennis expertice of Mr. Perrin, who came through for the girls to be their coach this year. "Mr. Perrin did a great job. He would always encourage us and cared about our opinion. Sometimes he would even rap for us." says team member, Janine Jenken.

The girls started practice during the summer in the morning to prepare for their upcoming season. The extra team work paid off. Each player improved on their game in their own individual ways, and they all improved together as a team.

Christina Lake had the best record this season with seven wins and five losses. Riley Bradley and Rhonda Agar had an amazing six consecutive wins this season. The teams post season was a great success also. They accomplished their team goal which was to come together as a team and beat the previous year's team record. As a team, they won three matches, had eight losses and one tied match. Goodbye to the Seniors, we will miss you next year!

BASKETBALL

"This years team battled through some peaks and valleys, and their hard work brought them a Christmas tournament championship and a District championship" described head coach Ron Glodich. The Varsity Boys Basketball team finished fourth in league with a 6-6 record and a regular season 11-9 record. In early March they knocked out St. Clair in the first round of districts and claimed the District title against Algonac with the final score 67-49. Helping out Mr. Glodich were assistant coaches Heath Kent, Joe Daly, and Nate Riek.

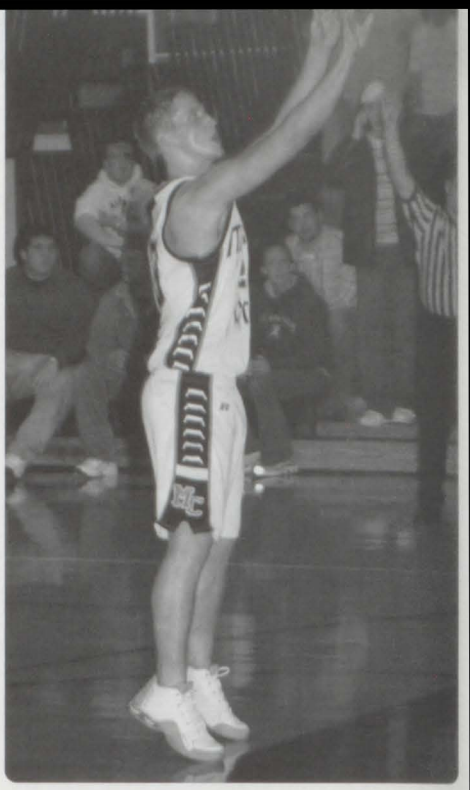

Whenever the team was in doubt they looked to get the ball to Kyle Pelzer whom the team could count on to score and get to the free throw line. If Kyle was getting double-teamed Ryan Barks always took the advantage and made the three pointers to bring the team ahead. Matt Schindler also made a large impact every game by scoring over the top of everyone. These key players and seniors will be missed next year.

The team was the league leaders in height with three towering players. They were junior 6'7" Chris Sass, 6'4" Kyle Pelzer, and 6'4" Matt Schindler.

After the first loss to St. Clair the boys came back to win in the second crossover game at home with the score 47-40. They had the crowd standing the whole time. Over Christmas break Marine City held the Christmas tournament, which lasted two days. The team won the tournament with great victories over Cardinal Mooney and Warren Lincoln.

All season long, the team always displayed hard work and motivation. There was plenty of support from the fans with the students cheering section "The Black Hole." The cheering group contained many students from the high school who wore "Black Hole" T-shirts and did organized cheers together at the games.

The boys successfully continued to keep the basketball program one that the school proudly takes pride over. As Mr. Glodich said "the Mariners walked the talk, 'those who stay, will be champions.'"

Above: Ruff-Ruff! #23 Ryan Barks shoots and scores another three pointer to bury the other team behind.

CHEER

This year the varsity cheerleading team broke new ground with their 2005 season. The fun energetic set of girls shocked audiences February 12th at the St. Clair invite with team backhand springs. The team took the Marine City competitive cheer to a new level. As a young team, they consisted of mostly underclassman. The effort these girls made will carry on allowing each of them to achieve greater skills in both stunting and gymnastics. The girls were able to learn and perform a new stunting round each competition keeping both fans and cheerleaders on their toes this year. Snowstorm and sickness canceled two competitions. However, nothing could stop the cheerleaders from practicing three hours a day. Some days, they even practiced before going to cheer at basketball games. Perfection was their goal.

The 2005 cheer team can best be described in one word "determined." The girls weren't alone in their determination; Coach Burmann pushed them to their limits every day. In addition to their regular practices, each Monday the girls would bring in their gymnastics coach, Heather to whip them into shape. Also the former J.V. coach Mrs. Steward came in to assist the girls and lend Burmann and extra set of eyes, when ever possible. Overall is was a "Great" season.

VOLLEYBALL

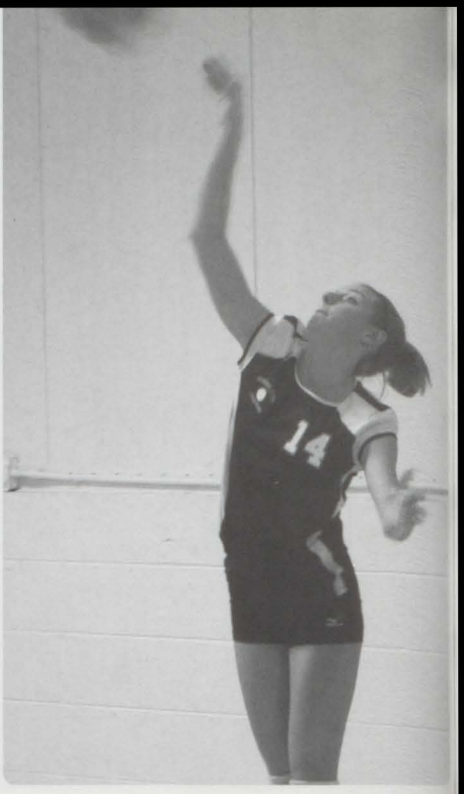

What a great season! This year the Girls' Varsity Volleyball team ended up first in their league. Not only did they put a banner up in the gym, the team also went undefeated in their league. Improving every game the team began to communicate better with each other. They spent four Saturday's competing against some good competition. They did an outstanding job and earned a second place in the St. Clair tournament and a third place in the Brandon tournament.

The offense was led by outside hitters Ami Moeller, Melissa Wejroch, and Stacey Stackpoole; middle hitters Nicole Lubinski, Shannon Lubinski, and Nichole Mazey; right side hitters Georgia Dewey and Jessica Gilbert. The defense was led by Becky Kerby, Aubrey Zimmerman, Kelly Griffor, and Jessica Paciorek. The setter position was filled by Lauren Warkentien.

Helping this team and starting a new program this year was new coach, Keith DeLong and assistant coach Anne Southby. Their knowledge and dedication helped the team reach their goal of earning a MAC Gold championship.

Overall we found out these girls have special skills, like passing skills, setting skills, and super hard hitting skills.

Bottom middle: #2 Becky Kerby is ready to contact the ball for another point.

Above: Watching the opponent serve is #5 Lauren Warkentien and #6 Nichole Mazey.
Right: In defensive position #12 Melissa Wejroch and #1 Aubrey Zimmerman get ready to dig.
Bottom: Looking huge on the net while #12 Melissa Wejroch serves it up is #6 Nichole Mazey, #5 Lauren Warkentien, and #14 Ami Moeller. #1 Aubrey Zimmerman gets ready for defense.

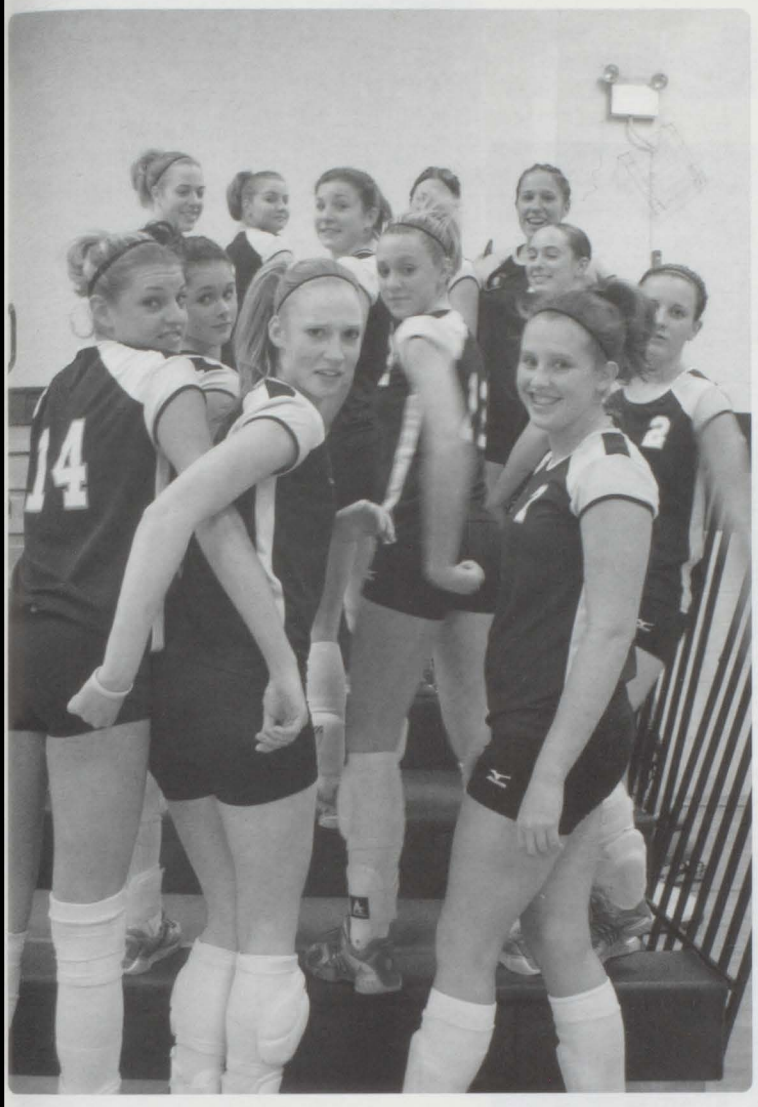

Left: Adjusting for comfort, Ami Moeller #14 and Georgia Dewey#13 help each other out. It's just one example to show how close this team is. They definately have a reason to smile this season, going undefeated in their league.

OUTstanding Seniors

These four seniors, (clockwise from top) Stacey Stackpoole, Kelly Griffor, Ami Moeller, and Lauren Warkentien provided awesome leadership this season. ~Good luck to all the volleyball teams next year!~

SWIM

The Boy's Swim team began practice in late November and got off to a great start. They worked long (up to two and a half hours) and hard practices daily to ensure a great season, and everyone without a doubt gave it their all at every practice and meet. With this team being one of the biggest ever, they aren't just a group of good friends and great swimmers, they are a family. they are extremely close to each other and are always there for each other, whether cheering them on during their events, congratulating them on their efforts or giving them advice. The boy's probably wouldn't be where they are right now if it wasn't for their great coaches. The new combination of coaches, Mike Miller, and his assistant coach, Janel Coppens, is great for the team. These two working together are enough to get the team working hard to achieve their highest goals, and keep the teams spirits high. The team captains, Andy Zyrowski, Nick Blair and Justain Fordt also help the swim team work to their full potential. They're dependable, focused, kind and keep the team in line. Way to go boy's on another great season,

Eric Vincent-

You made it!! - What am I saying, I made it!! What a challenging, exhausting journey we've been on! You've tested me more than I could of ever imagined- I think we both learned a lot from each other. Stay focused on what's really important and you'll never be disappointed. I love you, unconditionally, more than you'll ever know.

Love,
Mom

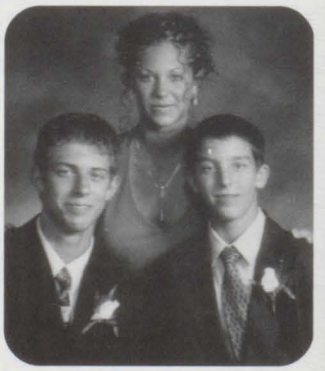

Here's to a bright future with lots of opportunities- don't let them pass you by!! Congratulations and good luck!!

Dad, Mom, Deanna and Adam

Amanda Furtah

Amanda,

Great dancer, compassionate, devoted Christian, well- mannered, nice & kind, honest & friendly, smart & optimistic, trustworthy, happy & funny and creative! These are the attributes given to you by your classmates. We couldn't agree more but we would like to add two more- a great sister and an amazing daughter. You are a special light and gift in this world. Your smile and humor can light up a dark room. It has been a pleasure to watch you grow into the extraordinary young woman that you are today. You have always made us so very proud.

Whatever path you choose, we pray that you will continue to let your "light shine."

Always remember to keep your eyes on Jesus. For I know that plans I have for you, for good and not for evil, to give you a future and a hope." Jeremiah 29:11

You will always be our special princess ballerina! And we hope you always dance...!

Leslie, our precious baby girl. You grew up way to fast.

Being the youngest wasn't easy, especially with two older brothers. Yet, you did very well. You found your own special talents and excelled in them.

We are very proud of you.

You have more than a daughter to us. You're a good listener, our fashion consultant, but most of all a good friend. You are kind hearted and funny, and best of all, cause very little trouble (except your spending habits).

We'll miss you very much when you go off to college. But we're sure there are more great things to come from you.

Believe in yourself. We do.

Congratulations and Love,
Mom Dad, Michael, Ken, and Skippy

And now it's your turn - the last one! It's gone by so quickly, and now the world of higher education and life as we know it awaits you.

Please bring trust, the smile, the loyalty and the work ethic that you have shown at home everywhere you go. We are confident that whatever paths in life you choose, you will bring happiness, friendship and success.

Dan,

Miracles do happen... A little boy arrived on July 28, 1987 bringing much joy along with hope for the future.

The hope has since evolved into pride as your accomplishments have been many in seventeen short years.

As you journey on to the next chapter in your life continue to set your goals high, follow your dreams, believe in yourself and face the challenges presented head on.

Above all, be happy and enjoy life to the fullest. Congratulations! I am so very proud of you!

"Our Precious Daughter"

In the summer of 1987, your daddy and I had no clue of how much of an impact, one tiny, absolutely beautiful, baby girl would make in our lives. Having you, was by far the single most perfect thing, I have ever done in my life. I thought the tears that I cried bringing you into this world, would not last long, and there would be "few" to follow. Oh! How quickly a new mother learns.

From your first words, first steps, boo-boos on the knees, bad dreams, butterfly kisses,...there were tears. First day of kindergarten, blue ribbon winner at a 3rd grade coloring contest, 8 days sick in St. Johns Hospital, ...there were tears. Jr. High jitters, braces, your first "puppy love" and honor roll at Kelly,...there were tears. Christmas mornings, band parades, your first telephone (you were glued to!) away at band camp, daddy's driving lessons, Sweet Sixteen, and your first set of keys,...there were tears. Moving away from Jacki, first high school dance, first date, medals on your varsity coat, and your first broken heart,...there were tears. But, always, since that very first tear, you have made us happy and proud. You're a young woman now, ready to receive her diploma, and spread her wings, into a world that can be very confusing at times. But you have been guided well, and I think you will do just fine. We will always be here for you, even when you trip and fall. And so today, almost 18 years later, upon your graduation day, there are once again tears, (this time we even got daddy!). You will know this feeling someday...

God truly blessed us, the day you made us parents. You have morals, standards, and values, not to many young ladies possess these days, and we freely talk of our daughter with real pride. Your heart of gold, sweet, gentle ways, a smile brighter than "your" moon on the darkest of nights, is what makes you beautiful inside and out. Doing things your way, and at a pace that suits you, being a leader, is what makes you unique. This is the very first of your accomplishments and hard work as an adult. College will follow, a wedding, and another "sweet pea" for mama and daddy to love and admire, as our cycle of life continues. Hold you head high and be proud of who you are, and where you came from. Life will be good to you if you work hard at it. Thank you honey, for making our world a better place, because you are in it! God Bless you and walk beside you, when we cannot. Go now, and celebrate your future! You deserve the best!

Mike Parslow

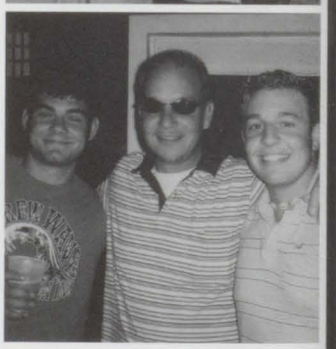

Mike,
You have filled our lives with an incredible amount of joy. Words cannot express just how proud we are of you. You have an amazing abilityto make people all around you smile. Always keep that great sense of humor ... and keep us smiling! We wish for you a life filled with love, faith, good friends, much laughter and happiness. You are a true blessing in our lives.

We love you,
Mom and Dad

Mike,

I couldn't have asked for a better "big brother." You've always been there to make me smile and work harder for what I want. We have so many great memories together. From watching Chirstmas movies in your room on Christmas Eve untill we fell asleep, to being able to cheer for you in the sports that you have done so great in. Everyone is so proud of you and all that you have accomplished. One of those things is being an awesome older brother and making a difference in someones life ... mine.

Love always, Katelyn (James)

Michael Francis Parslow Jr.

These past couple of years with you are filled with tons of wonderful memories. I'm looking forward to all the memories ahead of us. Never stop being you and remember this: I love you and I'll always care.

Matt,
It seems like only yesterday
when you were young and shy,
Now you're such a funny
"one-liner" kind of guy.
At times you make us shake our heads
and wonder what is next,
But after all is said and done
we know you'll do your best.
We are proud of what you have become and the glimpse of the man you will be,
and wish you success and happiness
as you continue in life's journey.

Congratulations and Love,
Dad, Mom, and T.J.

Christiana Lynn Schmitz

Dear Christie,
Congratulations on all of your accomplishments. You are headed in the right direction, each step, no matter how small will get you closer to your goal, and remember "never be afraid to go out on a limb because that is where the fruit is". We are so proud of your fine character...We don't need to look far to see a 'Miracle'.

Love you always and forever,

Christy,
I remember when I was little, I wanted so badly to be just like you, and well who could blame me. You are a wonderful person: kind, strong, compassionate, charismatic, and so talented. You have always watched out for me and been there when I needed you, you are the best older sister anyone could have. I am so proud of you and all you have accomplished. You have so much ahead of you!

I love you now and always will,

You are our miracle baby
God's work at his very best.
A lover of animals
From Tapanka to Sprout- the pest.

Your bond will always be strong with Nick and Ryan too.
Rely on them forever
Remain close in all you do.

When you make "your" decision to get the job done
there is no stopping you
Whether in the red truck or hot sun.

Listen to your heart
Keep God in all you do
But always remember
We all love you!

Love,
Mom and Dad

How can I express fully the joy I've experienced watching you grow? As you enter a new year of fresh possibilities, I wish you every good thing life has to offer.

- Congratulations -
Love always Mom

Courtney Johnson

Dear Courtney,
It seems like just yesterday that we followed the school bus to kindergarten and now you are on your way to college. You are our miracle baby. Everything you touch turns to gold. Remember that these are gifts from God. Stay focused on God and using the gifts that he has planned for you. We are so proud of the beautiful young women you have become and of all the things that you have accomplished so far. Continue to follow your dreams and know that we love you very much and will always be here for you.
Love

Dearest Missy May,

May you remember the past with pride and affection, may you enjoy the present with wonder and happiness, may you reach for the future with hope and determination. When trying to thing of what to say to you, it all became so obvious when studying your face, from infant to young adult. It is there that one willl find hope, laughter, love, and determination.

You are not told often enough how much you are valued and appreciated. It is with great love and pride that we say, "continue to climb that tree, enjoy every branch, every leaf!"

WE LOVE YOU!

Keith and Kevin Cherluck

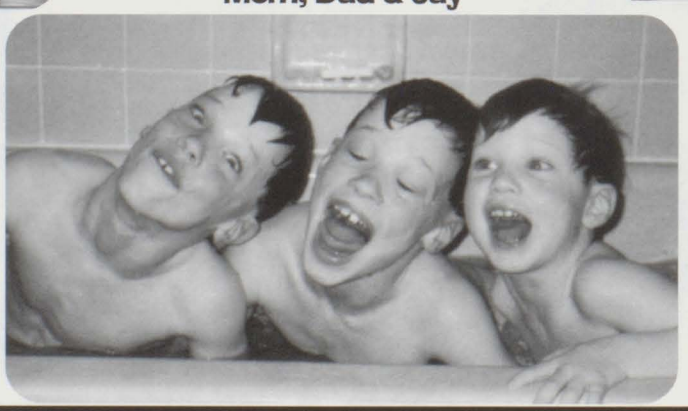

Congratulations!
Today is your day!
You're off to great places!
You're off and away!
You have brains in your head,
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourselves
Any direction you choose.
Oh, the places you'll go!
There is fun to be done.
There are points to be scored
There are games to be won.
But I'm afraid that sometimes
You'll play lonely games too.
Games you can't win,
'cause you'll play against you.
So be sure when you step,
Step with care and great tact-
Because life, as you know,
Is a Great Balancing Act.
So....
Be your name Keith, Kevin or Jay,
You're off to Great Places!
TODAY IS YOUR DAY!
Love,
Mom, Dad & Jay

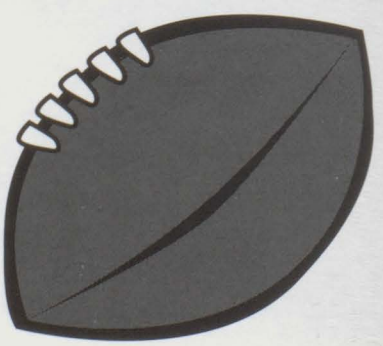

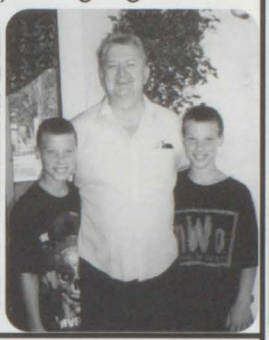

Dear Keith & Kevin,
We watched you as you grew from tiny preemies to the handsome young men you've become. During that time you filled our hearts with joy and pride. Now you're going on the next step in your journey of life. May it always be filled with much happiness and success.
All our love always,

Amanda and Victoria Vintevoghel

There is something to be said about daughters: they are the apple of their father's eye and the sparkle of their mother's heart. Amanda and Victoria you are all that and more.

From all of the recitals at Lo-Ru, Cross Country and track meets, and all those soccer games, we have enjoyed watching you grow into beautiful and caring young ladies. You have given us many exciting and precious moments.

This chapter of your life is coming to a close, but we know the next chapter will be even more exciting, and we will be right there to support you every step of the way.

Your accomplishments are many and we just want to let you know that we are very proud of you and love you with all our heart.

Congratulations! Remember, "We hope you dance"

Love, Mom & Dad

Anana and Torya,
Congratulations! When I saw you senior pictures, my fist thought was WOW! You are seniors! This is your last year, 12th grade. My second thought was that you guys are beautiful. Anyways, as a little sister, I have never been happier for you. From track to cross country to soccer, I'm proud to say that I'm your little sister and I always will be there for you.
Love, (Al)exandria

Brian,
We are so very proud of you and wish you the best of luck in the years to come.

Shawn Stevens

Dear Shawn,
Where did all the time go? I can't believe it's time for you to graduate. This is the beginning of the end for you, the end of high school - and what a great job you have done. I am so very proud of you!

The beginning of your life, a journey that I hope brings you great promise and pleasure. You have been all that a parent could ask for. I would like to "Thank You!" for all the joy you have brought to my life, for all the smiles you have brought to my face, for all the times you've made me laugh, for being that "crazy" kid that you are.

-"Shawn Stevens"- I Love You!
"Congratulations Huni!" Mom

Carrie Yax

Carrie,

From the first day you were born on March 24, 1987, you've brought us a lot of joy. We had proof positive that good things really do come in small packages. You will always be our beautiful baby girl, with blond hair and curls. Grow up to be a beautiful young women.

Remember to always run the distance, look ahead, and imagine your future. Because great things are coming your way.

Above all else, remember how much you're loved. You have brought us as much joy as can only be imagined.

We Love You! Dad & Mom

Carrie, Good luck in the future, for what it may bring. I love you always & forever. You are my all-time favorite COUSIN & BEST FRIEND.
Love always, Courtney xoxo

There are no words that can express the way I feel. You have grown into such a wonderful young woman. Your compassion for others, your love of life, your caring, loving heart, and your smile that lights up every room you walk in. We still can't believe that you are graduating, I am not ready, but we know you are. You have worked very hard all through your school years, and earned your way into Grand Valley. We will miss seeing that big loving smile walking in the front door everyday, and Chase will miss his big sister "sissy" saying "hey bro" when you come home. We are so very proud of you and know you will do great. Always remember not to give up on your dreams and always remain true to yourself.

You will always be my "Baby Girl".
We love you so very much!

Lauren Brynne Warkentien

Christmas morning, 1986, we received the best gift ever- YOU! It is said "success is getting what you want and happiness is liking what you get" and we couldn't be happier. Your dedication, hard work, compassion and love for others is a reflection of who you are .Your creativeness and uniqueness, which has endless possibilities, will lead you to success and happiness through out your whole life. So many of the good times we remember from the past happened because of you! You've brought laughter and joy to our lives and much love to our hearts. The most precious things we can wish for you are the things you've given us...happiness and love.

So Proud of you and so much love,
Mom and Dad

SUCCESS

TO LAUGH OFTEN AND MUCH
TO WIN THE RESPECT
OF INTELLIGENT PEOPLE
AND THE AFFECTION OF CHILDREN;
TO EARN THE APPRECIATION
OF HONEST CRITICS AND ENDURE
THE BETRAYAL OF FALSE FRIENDS;
TO APPRECIATE BEAUTY
THE FIND THE BEST IN OTHERS;
TO LEAVE THE WORLD

Dodgeball Tournament of Champions

Above: Tough guy Mark MacGregor is a little intimidating to his opponents.

Far Left: Throwing himself into the hit, David Packer uses an extravagant technique to dodge and throw all at once.

Left: Taking a precise and skilled stance, Rayce Metdepenningen prepares to make a hit.

Below: All that softball comes in handy as Andi Bourgeois makes a detrimental throw for the girl's team.

Right: Now unofficially a four-sport athlete, Lauren Warkentien makes a pitch that could be painful.

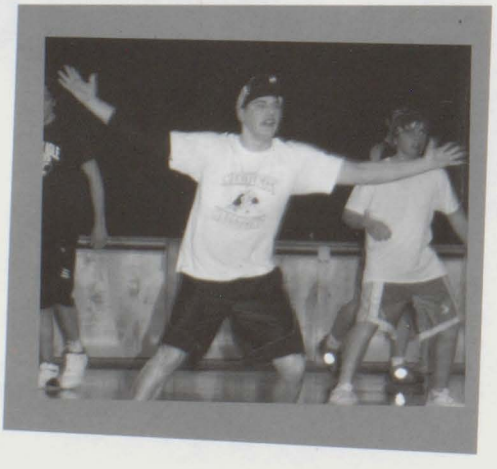

Below Right: Laughing, Mike Hopkins has a genuinely good time on the court.

Below Middle: Refusing to let the guys have all the fun, Stacey "Sweet Music" Stackpoole shows up on the basketball court yet again.

Below Left: Bring it! Nico Carmos isn't scared of the competition.

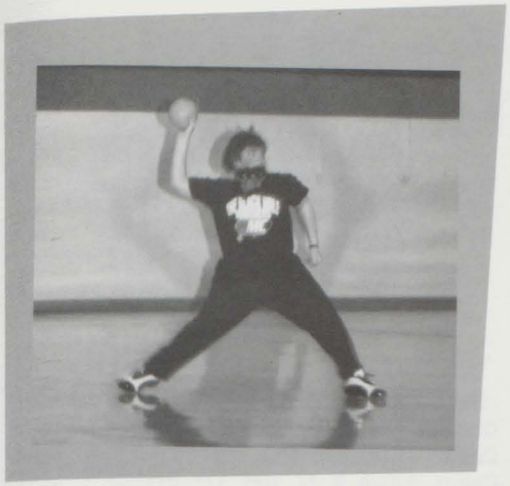

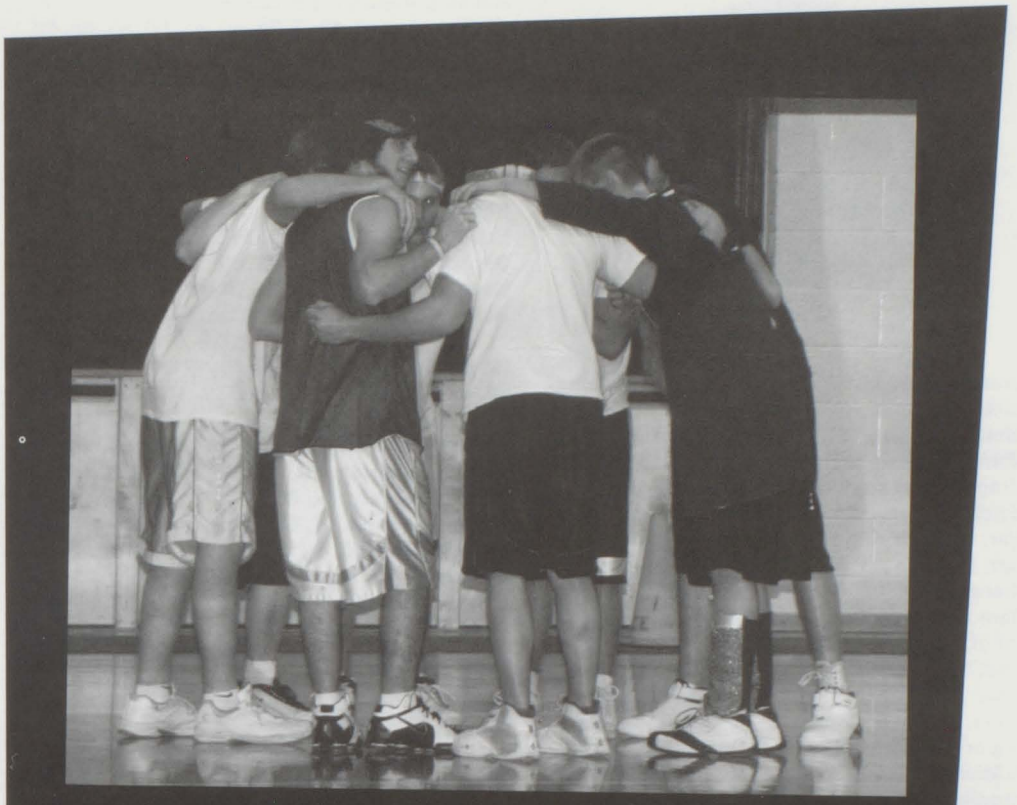

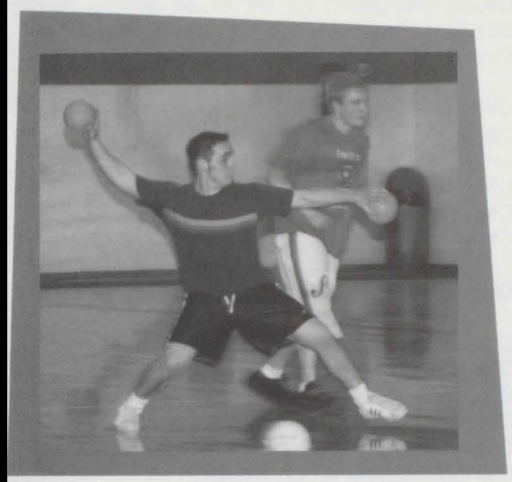

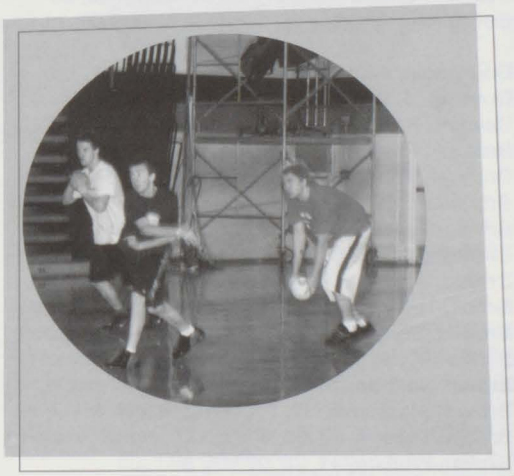

Scheming away for a conquering strategy, Jordan Pauli, Chris Otto, Josh Brown, and Kenny Bibeau huddle up with the rest of their team.

Top: Giving his all, Ben Lee whips one to the other team.

Above: Playing hard, Brandyn Militello and Paul Malinski dodge and throw all in one beat.

Right: Together, Sam Sattler, Paul Malinski, and Brad Yadon go all out to beat the opposing team.

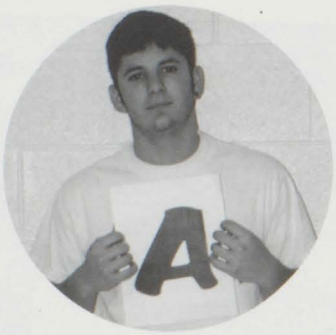

Left: The other team is in for it as Jeff Denean and Anthony Menkel wind up hard to make the hit.

Right: Who's that underneath all those clothes? Tony Roberts combines stealth with disguise to be intimidating to the extreme.

"Every face, on every page has been important to me these last two years. It's been such a great experience working with the people I have in yearbook class. To the sophomores and juniors, don't ever take forgranted how fast the time flies by. To the seniors, have an awesome life, you guys were great. Thanks to all the people who supported and inspired me. I'm going to miss you Reichle."

~ Andi Bourgeois Editor

"I hope everyone can take this book home and always open it up and remember all their memories of High School. This book is about bringing these pictures to life and I beleive everyone in yearbook was successful at it. Thanks Kathy for all your help and thank you Christy, Amanda, Hannah, Noel, Aubrey, Andi, DJ, Brent, Georgia, Kelly, Kyle, Kelley, and Lisa for making the class yearbook so awesome! RRRAAARRRGGHHH!!!"

~ Lauren Warkentien

"The experiences each of us encounters in high school may seem meaningless, however, high school is the time we not only find who we are, but develope the person we want to be. I have had an incredible time these last four years and i contribute my experiences to my friends, teachers, and most importantly, God "

~ Noel Rivard

" They're not kidding around when they say, 'it flies by.' I think all of us tried to capture the little things- the everyday, just being kids, fun things- in this book. Years from now, we'll still have the dumb jokes and the casual smiles, and that's what we'll take from high school. The good times are right now! So enjoy every last second, and live in the moment."

~ Christy Schmitz

"Thank you to everyone in yearbook for the wonderful experiences we've had together. As a senior this is the year of good-byes, Yearbook Class is one I will truly miss. To all the underclassmen - when you look back, the things that mean the most are the ones that seemed unimportant at the time. Finally, Thank You Kathy for being there for me."

~ Amanda Morgan

Just think

Just think, less than twelve years ago,
We were riding the bus for the very first time.
But consider that in twelve years from now,
Many of us could be married with kids of our own.
Realize that this is the last time it will be your Friday night football game,
The last opportunity to have fun with the friends that we've had for so long.

Just think how our lives have been changed,
Because of the people surrounding us at Marine City High School.
Consider that next year we may all be seperated.
Years later, we will reunite,
To reminisce not only about what we have done,
But, about what we are doing next.

Know that leaving one place,
Means arriving in another,
And though we say "goodbye" today,
Tomorrow we say hello.
